

About Us

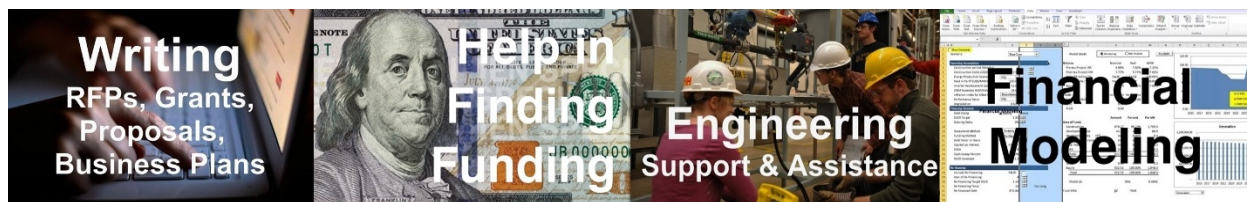

American Diversified Energy Consulting Services exists to help you excel at what you want to do.

Our acronym, ADE, is pronounced "aid," since that is what we do.

The ADE team includes subject matter experts in a wide range of biotech fields, as well as corporate executives, technology developers, engineers, entrepreneurs, financing specialists, marketing experts, strategic planners, publication specialists, project managers, and former senior-level administrators of federal government agencies.

ADE offers an array of resources and capabilities which are designed to help you fill in gaps, avoid headaches, obtain project leadership and management, meet deadlines, and draw on specialized expertise when needed.

We can help you: Find grants | Win RFPs & bids | Increase business | Create attention-getting business plans, annual reports & investor presentations | Conduct market analyses | Create, improve upon & prepare each of the 16 elements of a successful financial presentation | Conduct feasibility studies & environmental assessments | Carry out due diligence | Obtain engineering assistance | Pursue technology development & commercialization | Carry out advocacy & government relations efforts |

ADE's capabilities and the pool of experts upon which it can draw is greatly expanded through the partner firms with which ADE maintains collaborative working relationships. These firms include:

- Lee Enterprises Consulting (LEC) – the world's largest bioeconomy consulting group with a team of 100+ subject matter experts worldwide.
- Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton (KTS) – with more than one-third of the Fortune 500 as clients, KTS is the largest and #1 ranked law firm in the world for the past nine years for its Trademark and Construction Practices and the largest and #1 ranked law firm in the U.S. for the past nine years for its Intellectual Property Practice. ADE works closely with the firm's Energy, Project Finance and Government Affairs practices.
